Worksheet 2 — Combined Exercise: One Email, in Muse

Track C • 14:00–34:00 • One continuous exercise. Draft only. Stop before sending.

Name: _____ Table: _____

Part 1 — Prompt it (5 min)

Pick a real email you need on Monday, sanitized, or: a tricky email, meeting notes summary, meeting prep, a short proposal.

My prompt (four parts + "good looks like" line):

Part 2 — Run it in Muse (5 min)

Run it in Muse. If not logged in, use any free chat app. Draft only.

My draft (or the key lines of it):

Part 3 — Evaluate it: blind judge (5 min)

Swap with your partner; they make one change. Hand both phones, marked only "left" and "right," to a judge from the next pair.

Judge picked: ☐ Left ☐ Right ☐ Could not tell

The one change that would make the losing version win:

Part 4 — Turn it into an agent (5 min)

Design the agent for the same chore. Email first: summarize your emails, then draft / reply to 1 email.

Trigger — what starts it?:	AI step — what it does:
Human approval — you check it:	Destination — where it goes:

Value: saves me _____ / week. Implication: _____

Fast-finisher stretch — no second exercise

Add one constraint. Example: "It must never send without me."

My constraint: _____
